November 2010 Meeting

Watt Hyer, the president of Ring 180 started the meeting with the effect "Card Warp One" a re-wired version of "Card Warp" (Paul Harris) by David Jenkins. Mike Kinnaird, a guest, was chosen as Watt's assistant for the effect.

A slightly different variation was demonstrated in “Siamese Twins” as well. Watt also did a coin effect by Eric Jones, “Out With Three”, from Eric’s first DVD, “Mirage Et Trios”. In addition, Watt performed a pirate scenario using a small box, a solid metal plate and a coin. The coin magically penetrated through the metal plate. Watt also showed two rubber band effects, “Band-It” and “Crazy Man’s Hand Cuffs”.

Hun Woo has the audience laughing as he performs several original effects. The first one consists of borrowing a dollar and turning it into a coin. Shaving off one corner of the coin and then another while performing for Eli an 8 year old first time guest. He then turns the deformed coin into a jumbo coin. The second effect uses thumb cuffs, Eli assists with this effect as well. Eli puts Hun in the cuffs and tightens them, but ends up quite exasperated as Hun never seems to manage to stay in them very long! Eli then thumb cuffed his dad, Jeff but he was not able to escape. Next Hun uses a Coin Funnel made by Royal Magic. Two C size batteries are used for the climax of the effect, but then states that the funnel is clogged and out comes multiple coins of all shapes and sizes. The highlight of laughs came from Hun’s variation of the Three Shell Routine using cups and D’lites. It was quite comical as Eli tried to keep track of the “lite” to no avail as it finally ended up in Hun Woo’s nose to end the trick.

Eli performs an effect that he learned earlier that day at Divine Magic and Novelties from Hun Woo, Mental Gems, and using Joe Duck as his assistant.

Harry Gallant finds a card that has been selected by Eli using the assistance of a wind up vampire to locate the selected card with a unique twist. The vampire walks over the cards trying to find the card, when the vampire stops; the card is revealed under the vampire itself.

JJ Slatner demonstrates “Immaculate Connection” by Paul Harris. This is an effect where three cards with the centers torn out are linked and unlinked with no break in the cards and then handed out to the audience for examination.

Michael Douglas performs Vortex from Scripting Magic using a candle that was unique in which three coins were produced from the flame of the candle one by one.

Bill Baber demonstrates Martin Gardners “Double-Climax Speller” from the book “Table Magic” with Landon Davis as his assistant. Landon chooses a card and puts it back into the deck. Bill demonstrates how you can spell the name of a card to reveal its location.

Then he has Landon spell the name of his chosen card and finds that he has not only reached his card, but it has also reversed in the deck. Bill then performs “Sheep and Thieves”, also by Martin Gardner. Bill uses five pennies for the sheep and two nickels for the thieves. A sheep and a thief are placed in each hand, when the hands are opened; the sheep have assembled in one hand and the thieves in the other.

Larry Rohr explains his concept of “Contact Juggling” to the membership.
